CALL FOR PAPERS

// WORKSHOP

Disclosure, Information Sharing, and Secrecy (DISS)

22 and 23 February 2027

2 p.m. to 6 p.m. CET | 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. ET | Online (via Zoom)

We are inviting submissions for a two half-day online workshop on the economics of disclosure, information sharing, and secrecy. We welcome both theoretical and empirical contributions on all aspects of information disclosure (or non-disclosure) in economics, accounting, management science, and related disciplines. We expect to include eight papers plus discussants in the programme.

We encourage (but do not require) all presenters to share their manuscripts with the audience (and the wider public) via the conference homepage.

The workshop will be open to the public, and all workshop details, including the Zoom information and the programme, will be posted on http://www.diss-conference.com.

SUBMISSIONS

To submit your paper (in PDF format), please use one of the following three options:

1. Upload your paper (or provide a link to the paper) directly using the (Google Forms) submission form at https://tinyurl.com/submit-diss2027
